

Alex Cimperman

Alex was born and raised in Milwaukee Wisconsin and was lucky to spend many of her childhood summers exploring Montana with her family. In 2006 she moved to Missoula to attend the University of Montana and never looked back. Initially obtaining a Bachelor's degree in Social Work, Alex spent several years working with at-risk youth in the Missoula and surrounding communities before returning to school to become a CPA. Alex has worked and volunteered with a handful of non-profits in the Missoula community and is proud to be serving her second year as a board member for Youth Homes. Alex is currently the Supervisor of Finance at ALPS Corporation; a Legal Malpractice Insurance company in Missoula. She lives in Potomac with her wife and their spoiled dogs and loves to spend her free time hiking old logging roads, kayaking, baking, birding, and raising chickens.
