Stockman Bank

I'm a native Montanan having grown up in the Bitterroot Valley and graduating from Hamilton High School. I pursued my Bachelor's degree in Business Administration at Arizona State University in Tempe, AZ. Upon graduating from ASU, I worked for a startup business that specialized in the sustainable treatment of water and wastewater. I've always had a passion for finance and real estate which ultimately led me to Stockman Bank. My wife, daughter, and I currently live in Lolo and try to get outdoors as often as possible for golf, a mountain bike ride, or to camp at a backcountry lake.
