Adam Smith | Senior Project Manager

Jackson Contractor Group, Inc.

Adam fell in love with construction while working for a contractor in Boston between semesters at Lehigh University. As Senior Project Manager responsible for Jackson Contractor Group's civil operations, he enjoys collaborating with owners, engineers, fellow contractors, and stakeholders to deliver quality projects for the benefit of the community and Montana. Adam enjoys spending time with his family, skiing, hunting, being outdoors, building small projects around the house, and rooting for Boston sports teams.
