

Jessica Glebke:

I am a Montana native with Wisconsin family ties. After graduating from UM with a BFA in Visual Art, I lived in Dallas-Fort Worth for a short period but hated being away from my beloved state and had to come home. I have worked in several fields through my career but have always found job satisfaction through kindness-driven, effective communication. I love my home and my home state and spend much time outdoors in all seasons, skiing, floating, camping, boating, hiking, gardening, etc! Other spare time is spent participating in volunteer county and neighborhood leadership groups, traveling, exercising and cooking. My husband and I own a home in West Riverside where we are lucky to be close to our cherished Blackfoot River.
