

LM 40 Bio

My name is Kasey Williams, and I am currently the Administrative Lieutenant with the Missoula Police Department. Most television shows and movies call my position “Internal Affairs.” My department refers to it as the Office of Professional Standards. I am a third generation Missoula guy born to a local business owner. I’ve been married to my wife Kacie for 7 years (yes, we share the same first name). We have no children, but we have two dogs and two pygmy goats. I graduated from the University of Montana in 2001 with a degree in Business while also having the privilege of being a 5 year Walk-On on the Men’s Basketball team. I was not any good, but I had the opportunity to play against several players who were. I worked at the family business through my 20’s, but then decided to join the Missoula Police Department at the age of 32. The second I made it through training and hit the streets on my own, I knew I had found my home. I am currently 47 years old and in year 14 of my law enforcement career. I have an unhealthy obsession with the game of golf, and this summer I officially embraced middle-age by deciding to purchase my first boat. My favorite thing to tell young adults entering the workforce is... If you simply show up and try, you will separate yourself from 80% of the workforce. Fun fact about me.... I travelled with CBS Golf for 3 seasons in my mid 20’s covering the PGA Tour which took me to several amazing golf courses including Augusta National Golf Club 3 times to cover the Masters.
